Steel price debate

With National Steel Corp., owner of Granite City Steel, in the forefront, many major steel companies have announced price hikes effective Wednesday, Dec. 1.

With all big firms other than U.S. Steel and Bethlehem deciding last week to boost prices to meet higher operating costs, federal officials questioned whether the hikes are essential and whether steel demand is sufficient to enable them to last.

National Steel began the announcements late Wednesday with plans for new prices estimated as averaging six per cent.

Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. followed suit with a similar announcement, and later in the week those joining in the trend were Inland Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Wheeling-Pittsburgh and Armco Steel Corp.

President Gerald R. Ford ordered the federal Council on Wage and Price Stability to seek price, profit and expected sales data.

William Lilly III, the council's acting director, voiced surprise at the price boosts and said, "It doesn't appear that the demand for steel products is strong enough to sustain a price increase of this size."

Text of the announcement in Pittsburgh Wednesday afternoon follows:

Effective Dec. 1, 1976, National Steel Corporation will raise steel sheet base prices as follows:

Hot-rolled bands ... $15 per ton.

Hot-rolled sheet and strip products ... $16 per ton.

Cold-rolled sheets, including sheets for motor laminations ... $20 per ton.

Hot-dip and electrolytic galvanized sheets ... $20 per ton.

These products comprise 75 per cent of National Steel's shipments.

The new prices will increase steel mill revenues approximately 5 per cent. Extra

Expand Smith plant

A. O. Smith Corporation is announcing plans to construct a 29,000-square-foot addition to its automotive frame manufacturing plant in Granite City.

Paul Kelly, plant manager, said the concrete block and metal one-story structure will be used as a parts storage and staging area prior to final assembly.

He said the expansion is necessary because of increased business. The local plant produces frames for such full-size General Motors cars as the Chevrolet Impala, Oldsmobile 98, Pontiac Bonneville and Buick LeSabre.

More than 1,000 employees have been hired at the plant within the last year, bringing the total workforce to 2,050.

A. O. Smith's Granite City plant began operations in 1954 and has had several major expansions since that time.

Plans call for construction of the addition—an extension of the north side of the existing 415,000-square-foot plant—to begin in December. Completion is scheduled for early spring.

Kelly said the new facility will not involve additional jobs but will permit improved production operations.

A. O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer, based in Milwaukee.

Its product line includes electric motors, water heating equipment, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, automobile and truck frames, fiberglass reinforced plastic pipe, metal powder and computer services.

Rohrs United director

Keith V. Rohrs, 45, was hired Wednesday afternoon as executive director of the Tri-Cities Area United Way.

Currently associate director of the Franklin County United Way of Columbus, Ohio, Rohrs will begin his duties here Jan. 3.

A graduate of Bowling Green (Ohio) State University, Rohrs is married and the father of five children.

He served in the Army during the Korean War as a fire direction specialist and forward observer. After receiving a bachelor of science degree, he worked two years for Dun & Bradstreet, and from 1958 to 1966 was a Boy Scouts of America district executive.

Following service for the next seven years as a scouting field director in a seven-county area, Rohrs in February 1973 became an assistant United Way campaign director in Columbia, being promoted to his present post in December 1975.

S. T. "Pete" Nasir resigned as the local U.W. executive director this summer to accept another job. During the fall campaign, Al P. Steinhilber was the acting executive director.

Approval of Rohrs for the post was given by the U.W. board of directors at a meeting in the YMCA auditorium.

President M. B. Miloski presided. After a discussion, U.W. merger was dropped as a pending topic.

The recommendation to approve Rohrs was submitted by John Blasingame on behalf of the executive committee—Blasingame and William F.

$482,000 allocated

With a record $495,071 received from the fall Tri-Cities Area United Way Campaign, the board of directors Wednesday afternoon allocated $482,180 to U.W. agencies.

Meeting at the YMCA, the United Way board approved the following distributions for 1977 operating costs:

Alcoholic Rehabilitation $14,000, American Red Cross $48,500, Arthritis Foundation $4,800, Boy Scouts $55,131, Catholic Charities $53,000, Coordinated Youth Services

Holdup victim stricken

Gabriel Gantcheff, 69, of 2122 Edison Ave., was listed in stable condition in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital this morning after suffering an apparent heart attack during an armed robbery in his home at 7 p.m.

Friday, Gantcheff, a pharmacist and former owner of Downtown Drugs, 19th Street and Delmar Avenue, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Helen Gantcheff, were forced by two armed robbers to lie on the kitchen floor of their home for about one and one-half hours, during which Gantcheff suffered severe chest pains. The Gantcheffs were eating supper when a "nice-looking" young man, about 25, came to the front door. When Mrs. Gantcheff answered it, the man asked if Mr. Gantcheff was at home. She allowed the man inside and he said he and Mr. Gantcheff had talked on citizens' band radios. He then displayed a gun and told the two victims to lie on the kitchen floor, face down.

A second young man then entered through the front door

Railroad boom era

(50th of a Bicentennial year Press-Record series)

Railroad equipment orders boomed in the early 1970s, prompting expansion of the Granite City plant of the American Steel Foundries and also "recalling a century-ago boom in railroad activity."

Between the close of the Civil War and the depression of 1873, everybody wanted to be close to a railroad.

It promised wealth to local producers through connection with the national market, wealth to real estate owners and other businesses through the growth or creation of urban centers, and wealth to those people it might employ. And it was "terribly exciting," historians say.

As a second railroad approached the city, the Quincy Whig screamed, "We want all the railroads we can get."

The Chicago Times, whose city had already profited more from its railroads than had any other municipality, bubbled greedily that wealth from the railroads "will so overflow our coffers with gold that our paupers will be millionaires and our rich men the possessors of pocket money which will put to shame the fortunes of Croesus."

Holidays are a time for sharing with those who lack close friends

Merry Christmas is an empty phrase for a number of older Americans this time of year, Anthony Traxler, director of the gerontology program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, says. And the future may hold many lonely holidays for such people, he adds.

"If present birth trends continue, an estimated 17 per cent of the population will be 65 or older by the year 2030, compared to 10.5 per cent today," Traxler said. He explained that emotions and problems that older Americans face during the holidays are reflections of the aging process. "First of all, the elderly face the problem of role loss—the various roles in society played by individuals. 'We live our life in a complex succession of roles.' For example, right now we have many people at SIUE playing roles as students, but these roles change in very important ways as a function of age.

"When role losses occur, these are major losses for people," he said. "In widowhood, we lose not only our loved one but a close confidant. This is a significant role loss."

Christmas and other holidays emphasize these losses, since they are periods of high expectations for happiness. "Buying gifts and baking special things for special people are difficult things to find substitutes for. There also are other losses faced at this time. 'A 95-year-old man told me his last friend died when he was 70,' Traxler said. "That is 25 years without a close friend for him. This certainly affects his Christmas."

"As we grow older, society expects the individual to change. There are a few roles such as the stereotyped rocking chair role—for senior citizens, but they are not as well-defined as those for younger people." Traxler said the elderly lose their sense of direction since they don't know what to expect of themselves and neither does society. This causes loneliness and lack of purpose. The feelings grow during times of expected happiness such as Christmas. "There are more depressed people during this time of year because everybody is supposed to be having a good time," he said.

"If you are an individual who has experienced significant role loss, you do not have the people to turn to and count on for this support and happiness."

"Another problem with a significant number of elderly is that they have had other losses, such as loss of physical health, economic status and vigor."

"Christmas time is a time to buy and give things. A lot of people do not realize the economic plight of many of our elderly."

"Many of them are incapable of buying even the littlest thing, and this contributes to their unhappiness."

"People can compensate for some of the effects of aging. Gerontologists would say that people can adjust to getting older by substituting one role for another and developing new friendships and new ties. Unfortunately, many people do not find it easy to do this. But it can be done."

"This acts as a buffer between the possibility of feeling blue or lonesome during periods of high expectations for happiness."

"A situation that is tolerable during some other time becomes unbearable during a holiday season because it looks like everybody else is having such a good time. They think that there is something wrong with them."

"There are some things that can be done to help people who have experienced significant losses in their lives to enjoy the holiday season," Traxler comments.

"Look within your parents' and grandparents' network of friends. See if there are individuals who do not seem to have significant family members and friends to share the season with."

"Then, it would be nice to share the Christmas season with them by visiting them, asking them to share your Christmas, or bringing gifts, cookies or small gifts to them."

People in nursing homes or neighbors who may not have family or friends nearby are also good candidates for sharing the Christmas spirit with, according to Traxler.

"Please be sure as you give that you are willing to accept something even though the individual may be very poor. Remember, they get as much out of giving as they do from receiving."

"Christmas is a good time to start looking at our situation with the elderly."

"Don't make it a one-shot thing. Adopt an elder and then carry the Christmas spirit throughout the year."

"One of the best Christmases I ever had was when I was 12 years old. An older gentleman, 86, literally lived in an old wooden shack with a tarpaper roof and pot-bellied stove. My brother and I chipped in and bought him a large can of Prince Albert tobacco."

"He was thrilled with his present. He had no family and had outlived his wife, children and close friends."

"But the fact that somebody shared their Christmas with him was significant. Not until then did I realize how important it is to share our Christmas."

"Giving and sharing with older persons, even if it is only sharing your excitement and enthusiasm with them, is an important part of this season," he concludes.

Lise Maria Westfall and Vincent Saputo are wed

St. Peter's Cathedral in Belleville, was the scene of the wedding on Oct. 23 of Miss Lise Maria Westfall, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Westfall, O'Fallon, and Vincent

A. Saputo, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore Saputo, Granite City. Father Robert O'Shea officiated at the double ring ceremony at 12 noon, before an altar decorated with bouquets of fall flowers and greenery.

Organist Dennis York played and sang, "Sabbath Prayer" and "My Cup Runneth Over With Love" and Miss Linda Saputo, a cousin of the groom, sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Westfall, wore an ivory doe skin satin gown with a full flowing skirt and cathedral length train, created by her mother.

Imported French, embroidered lace, etched with pearls, delicately accented the V-neckline and Empire bodice. Matching lace formed the fitted cuffs of her long full sleeves, enhanced with tiny covered buttons.

Her tiered veil of bridal illusion was edged with the pearls and lace and secured to a lace headpiece. She carried a bouquet of ivory silk roses intermingled with sprigs of baby's breath and rust colored dried flowers.

Miss Maria Westfall, a sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and bridesmaids included Debi Reake, Kathy Stanley, Alice Huffman, Connie Wagner and Rose Saputo, the groom's sister.

They chose identical rust knit dresses designed with V-necklines, long tapered sleeves and A-line skirts.

Each attendant wore a wreath of gold baby's breath in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of silk flowers in autumn hues.

The groom chose Mark C. Schmeisser as his best man, Craig Rydiger, Terrance Toth, Matt Westfall, a brother of the bride, Eric Schmeisser, John Richardson, David Wayne Smith and Steven Clemons, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Saputo at a reception held at the Elks Lodge 481, Belleville, immediately following the ceremony.

The former Miss Westfall graduated in 1972 from O'Fallon High School, and from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville with a B.S. Degree in Biology. She also graduated from St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville, School of Medical Technology and is presently employed there as a medical technologist.

The groom was graduated in 1971 from Granite City High School South and in 1973 from SIUE with a B.S. Degree in Education. He is Regent of Region 5 Delta Chi Fraternity and is employed in the advertising department of the Press-Record.

The couple are now residing in Belleville, following a wedding trip to Colorado.

Shot in dispute at Eagle Park

John E. Baskett, 37, Kansas City, Mo., was admitted to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, in critical condition Thursday after he was shot in the chest at Eagle Park Acres at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

Madison County sheriff's deputies have charged Clinton Thornton, 56, of 125 Booker St., Eagle Park Acres, with attempted murder in connection with the shooting. His bond was set by Associate Judge Thomas Gibbons at $10,000.

Baskett told authorities his car and Thornton's truck were involved in a minor traffic accident on Harrison Street in Eagle Park Acres and a disagreement between the drivers followed.

Baskett alleged Thornton took a shotgun from his truck and shot him. Baskett was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where he was treated for gunshot pellet wounds to his left side, chest and abdomen and was transferred to the St. Louis hospital.

Car overturns

Two young men were injured when they left the pavement on State 433 seven-tenths of a mile west of Route 157 and overturned several times.

The driver, Leroy Stevens, 33, Cassville, and a passenger, Donny Parker, 26, of 1722 Delmar Ave., were thrown out of the car and were brought by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Parker was transferred to Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis, with possible internal injuries and with abrasions to his back, right lower leg and abdomen and pain to his chest and back.

Stevens suffered multiple cuts to his right thigh and the left ankle and abrasions to his right hand. X-rays were taken and he was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

PARK CENTER LOOTED

A color television was stolen from the Granite City Park District's Community Center, 822 N.iedergraus Ave., between 9:30 p.m. Wednesday and 7 a.m. Friday. Entry was gained by crawling through a 10 by 16 inch window into the kitchen. A pane of glass was pried from its frame to gain entry to the television room, and the hinge pins were removed from a door to gain access to the television, locked in a closet.

Jury selection is expected to begin Wednesday in the murder, burglary and arson case against Hubert David Richmond Jr., 21 of 2137 Cleveland Blvd.

Judge William Beatty has disposed of all pre-trial motions, including motions to suppress most of the evidence gathered by Granite City police in their investigation, ruling in favor of the police on nearly every piece of evidence, including video tapes, a court spokesman said.

Richmond is accused of breaking into the home of Miss Theresa Kichler, 78, of 2217 Grand Ave., Aug. 28, striking her and knocking her unconscious and then setting fire to two places in her home. She died of smoke inhalation, according to autopsy results.

A $2,000 base radio transmitter and receiver, a $420 television set, and two pistols valued at $300 and $200 were stolen during a burglary at the home of Thomas Brimberry, 3313 Blackhawk Lane, between Wednesday and Sunday. A crowbar was believed used to force the overhead garage door open and blue paint was left on the door frame. Entry to the house was from the attached garage.

charges are not being changed. These upward adjustments cover only partially the cost increases in materials, supplies, labor and freight that the company has been experiencing.

Pricing of sheet products has lagged well behind the pricing of other steel products in recent years. This has made it impossible to absorb further increases in these products.

Demand for sheet products has been strong throughout 1976 and, in fact, approaches the record shipping year of 1973.

In 1977, demand is expected to rise on the order of 10 per cent which would make 1977 a record year for hot-rolled, cold-rolled and galvanized sheets.

Demand for all steel products has been down for the last 30 days, which is characteristic of the fourth quarter.

Currently, the company is experiencing better booking rates for the first quarter of 1977.

These price increases are moderate in the light of future capital needs for environmental control facilities, maintenance of equipment and expansion.

National Steel will spend approximately $200 million next year for capital programs. This will continue to stimulate the economy and provide jobs, both internally and for suppliers.

The company's present forecast of industry shipments in 1977 is 100 million tons.

With the expected resurgence in capital goods and construction in 1977, the economy, it would be as high as 105 million tons.

Execute search warrant and arrest resident

Ron Flaugh, 30, of 2605 North St., was arrested at his home at 8 p.m. Friday by Illinois State Police and Granite City police detectives, who had obtained a search warrant for his house.

A police spokesman said the search warrant was obtained as the result of information received by the Granite City Police Department during an investigation.

Legislators debate pay

With Governor-elect James R. Thompson leading the appeal for pay increases for state officials, the salary issue is expected to be a prime consideration of Illinois lawmakers this week.

Thompson favors increasing the governor's $50,000 yearly pay and giving legislators and other state officials raises before such officials are sworn in for the next terms in January.

The secretary of state and attorney general are paid $42,500 annually, the state treasurer and state comptroller receive $40,000 and the lieutenant governor is paid $37,500.

Legislators currently receive $20,000 a year. Small increases are favored by Sen. Sam Vadalabene, Rep. Joe Lucio and Rep. Sam Wolf, while Rep. Everett Steele is opposed to raising the amount at this time.

Named coordinator of youth services

Miss Bev Henderson of Edwardsville, a former Granite City resident, has been appointed coordinator of the Youth Services Bureau for the city of Edwardsville and is in the process of attempting to establish as many new programs as possible to give youths of that community worthwhile and constructive ways to spend their free time.

Miss Henderson, 25, a Granite City High School graduate, was appointed to her position earlier this month by the Edwardsville City Council after a $12,000 grant was received from the Illinois Commission on Delinquency Prevention to fund the Youth Services Bureau.

She said she plans to find and list as many free recreation sites as possible and match the wishes of Edwardsville youth to programs which can be held in these sites.

Auto mechanics classes in a mechanic's garage donated after hours to the Youth Services Bureau, a broader basketball program, additional gymnasium facilities open to youth, a more attractive youth center program, weekend retreats and other programs are among her objectives.

Miss Henderson said most previous surveys of student attitudes contacted only those youths who already were spending their free time profitably and not those who are really in need of new programs.

She already has asked two Manpower employees to mix with all kinds of youth in the city and determine what kind of programs they would utilize. She said volunteers will be essential to the success of the program, since the $12,000 offered in the grant will cover only administrative expenses and very little will be available to spend on the actual programs.

Donations of gymnasiums, meeting rooms, auto shops and similar facilities as well as donated time by mechanics, coaches, parents and educators will be the foundation of the program, if it is successful.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville also is to be asked for help in designing and carrying out programs.

Existing programs to help drug and alcohol abusers and counseling for youths with other problems will be continued in conjunction with the new programs designed to keep youths "off the streets and away from potential trouble."

Miss Henderson holds a bachelor of arts degree in English and History from SIUE and is completing a master's degree in secondary education there.

She teaches one or two courses per semester in the Community Services Department at Florissant Valley Community College in St. Louis County and is assistant organist at Hope Lutheran Church here.

She also is active with youth groups in the church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Henderson of Granite City.

Students to register

Student registration for the winter quarter at SIUE will begin Monday, Dec. 6. C. B. Collier, assistant registrar, said advance registration will be held Dec. 6, 7 and 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. in Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Appointment cards are needed for registration on Dec. 6 and 7, but no appointment is necessary for the Dec. 8 registration session.

Central registration, which also is open without an appointment, will be held Monday, Jan. 3, from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Collier said, "We recommend that students come in on the seventh or eighth to register for their own benefit. Many wait until Jan. 3, but we cannot promise that there won't be long lines. We can almost assure that they will have to stand in line for awhile."

He said the best bet is for students to go into the enrollment office on the first floor of the Hendleman Building and get an appointment card for the times still open Dec. 7. "If we run out of appointment cards, then they can still register on Dec. 8," he said.

Winter quarter classes start Jan. 4 at 7:30 a.m. Program changes will begin Wednesday Jan. 5, and continue Jan. 6.

The enrollment office will be open Jan. 5 and 6 from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. to accommodate students wishing to make class changes.

Winter quarter fees must be paid no later than Jan. 7, according to Collier. He added that anyone attending SIUE for the first time should drop by the University Admissions Office to be sure that all admission requirements have been met.

Real 1977 growth of 5% is forecast

The Prudential Insurance Co. predicts that increased consumer spending, combined with stronger capital outlays by business, will help produce real growth of five per cent in 1977. That prediction was released Sunday in Prudential's annual economic forecast for 1977, prepared by Dr. J. Ferrari, vice president and chief economist, and Dr. James L. Essig, director of economic and investment research.

The Prudential report based its forecast for "moderate growth" on developments which "provide grounds for optimism that the current upswing will exceed the historical three-year average duration and continue until late in the decade."

Prudential foresees the unemployment rate dropping, gradually, possibly to 6 1/2 per cent by the end of 1977, but sounds a note of caution concerning inflation.

The 1977 total gross national product is projected at $1,878,000,000, a 10 1/2 per cent rise from 1976, including 5 1/2 per cent due to price increases.

The inflation rate reflects upward price pressures from areas such as energy and services—especially medical, care, rents and utilities—as well as some upward pricing efforts by industrial producers as demand strengthens.

Moderating wage settlements and favorable productivity improvement, along with the slow pace of recovery in leading industrial countries, are factors which could limit inflation, the forecast says.

But it sees the long-range picture clouded by the fall climb in unemployment rates and the "ever-present temptation to turn to overly expansive fiscal-monetary policies as a quick fix for joblessness."

The economists are encouraged, however, that Congress, despite "some excesses," is showing a degree of budgetary discipline.

They expect the second Congressional budget resolution, passed last September and similar to last spring's plan, to provide a moderate degree of fiscal thrust starting late this year.

"The forecast notes that a tax cut or rebate is a possibility in early 1977 but that any major policy shifts under the new Carter administration generally would have their greatest impact after next year."

Prudential stresses that a continuing firm commitment to fiscal-monetary discipline, and microeconomic approaches to attack structural unemployment problems, are essential to balanced sustainable growth in 1977 and beyond.

Also said to be needed is more long-term policy emphasis on the supply side, including the "long-overdue formulation of a coherent energy program," and "creation of an environment that encourages private capital investment and job formation."

Consumer spending is forecast to increase 10 per cent in 1977, after gaining 10 1/2 per cent in 1976.

Improved spending power and somewhat less cautious buying attitudes may perk up consumer outlays in the coming months, reversing a trend which began this spring. The savings rate may again be under seven per cent, well below the level for most of the years of the 1970s.

Durables spending is expected to climb as many purchases, deferred during the recession, finally are made.

Automobile sales could climb to nearly 11 million units from the 10.2 million level in 1976.

The report anticipates that housing expenditures, which jumped 10 per cent this year, will rise 25 per cent to $84 billion in 1977.

Continued construction of 14-unit housing and some new vitality in the still hard-pressed apartment sector are seen as important factors in this growth.

'Messiah' by choral groups

The three choral organizations at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, including the Community Choral Society, University Chorus and Concert Chorus, will perform Handel's "Messiah" Sunday, Dec. 5, at 8:15 p.m. in the Edwardsville High School gymnasium. Leone Van Camp directs all three choral groups.

Thirteen students studying voice will perform a variety of recitatives and arias from Handel's masterpiece during the concert. Providing music for the combined choruses and soloists will be the University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Robert Schieber, director of orchestral activities.

The performance will include such well-known choruses as "And the Glory of the Lord," "The Hallelujah Chorus" and "Worthy is the Lamb."

The performance is free and open to the public. Other Christmas programs planned for the holiday season include performances by the Concert Chorus at shopping centers and a special performance for members of the SIU Board of Trustees.

On Dec. 12, the Collegium Musicum will present a concert in the Lovejoy Library auditorium at 8:15 p.m. The Musicum is dedicated to the study and performance of early and rarely-performed music.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her brother, Dennis Clinton of Chicago. She chose a full length ivory Quana knit gown designed as a princess style with cathedral fashioned sleeves accented with a lace trim.

Matching lace enhanced the chapel train and bordered her shoulder length veil which was secured with a beaded headpiece.

She wore a sleeveless ivory gown complemented with a brown chiffon caftan and held a single orange rose.

The groom selected his brother, Larry Gauen, as best man.

Flu shots for public at SIUE

Swine flu shots will be available to the general public 18 years of age and older on Monday, Dec. 6, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, according to Dr. Emerson M. Carpenter, director of the University Health Service.

The shots will be administered in Meridian Hall of the University Center from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Dec. 6. The shots will be free, and all recipients will be required to sign a federal "informed consent form." All health service personnel will be assisting with the special clinic, and Health Service offices in the Hendeman Building will be open only for emergencies that day, the director said.

After Dec. 6, university personnel will be able to obtain swine flu shots at Health Service during regular office hours.

Swine flu vaccine arrived at the university last week and Health Service personnel began administering shots to older members of the university community who had registered in advance for the vaccine.

Warriors blitz 3 foes

South five 2nd in meet

Coach Don Deterding's Warriors cagers rallied behind the high scoring of Junior Terry Angle and accuracy at the charity stripe by Junior Terry Angle to claim second place during the weekend in the Bridgeport (Red Hill High School) round-robin tournament.

GCHS South opened the two-day journey Friday evening with a 62-56 win over Marshall High, and then beat Edwards County High Saturday afternoon 74-64 before losing to the hosts that evening, 72-63.

Red Hill won the tournament with three wins and no losses. Angle put 31 points on the scoreboard in the first contest as South led 14-12, 31-19 and 50-40 at the quarters.

Hennrich, a 5-8, 135-pound guard, helped pull his team to victory with 10 straight charity tosses in the final three minutes against Edwards County. South led 15-12, 27-22 and 44-24 at the quarters against Edwards.

The Warriors had experienced problems in bringing the ball downcourt against Marshall Friday night after Hennrich went to the bench with his fifth foul early in the fourth quarter.

Marshall used defensive pressure which forced 10 South turnovers which the opponent converted into points in the final quarter. But the rally fell six points short.

South held the edge on field goals, 26-21, but Marshall had a 4-10 free throw advantage.

South committed the most fouls, 24-22, and yielded possession of the ball 19 times.

Marshall recovered 26 rebounds and South, 21.

"Angle is only 6-3," said Deterding, "but his quickness and hustle enabled him to take inside passes and put them up" for much of his 31-point total.

John Slay added 12 points, Hennrich nine, Dave Rhodes and Terry Jones four each and Jay Heubner, two.

In the semifinals, with the score deadlocked at 64-64 with three minutes to play, Edwards County began pressing the Warriors, resulting in fouls and Hennrich stepping to the free throw stripe, sinking all the tosses for the winning margin.

Each team garnered 23 field goals, and South hit 28 charity tosses in 31 attempts to tie the enemy's 18 free throws. Fouls were: South 21, Edwards 19.

Wrestling Steelers confident for opener

GCHS North's wrestling Steelers will open their 1976-77 season in St. Louis County at 6 p.m. Wednesday against a newly-scheduled foe, Parkway North High School, with what Coach Walt Whitaker sees as a "psychological advantage."

There is a definite mental advantage when a coach can pit state and national competitors against a team," he notes.

Brothers Kris and Keith Whelan who this summer nearly qualified for the Montreal Olympic games.

Kris, a junior wrestling at 105 pounds, gained the national Greco-style wrestling championship. Keith, a 112-pound senior, placed second in state freestyle competition.

Last season, Kris Whelan posted a 35-1 record which included district and sectional championships and fourth place in the state high school tournament.

Keith Whelan last season had a 2-2 mark including a district championship, sectional runner-up honors and fifth in the state meet.

Tracy Patton, a 119-pound freshman, will start Wednesday.

Three Aurora College soccer players have been named to the 1976 NAIA District 20 (Illinois) all-star teams.

They are: Rudy Keller, junior fullback from Wheaton, named to first team defense; Gary Hency, junior halfback, Granite City, second team defense; and Mark Voegelé, junior forward, Granite City, second team offense.

Keller, Hency and Voegelé added the district honors to 1976 NAIA all-conference recognition. In ballgame for District 20 coaches, Keller received 18 votes to tie for high vote total among candidates on first team defense.

Hency, Voegelé named as college soccer all-stars

Two high school grid teams which eliminated area teams from further competition in the Illinois High School Association football playoffs fell to the wayside in their championship contest during the weekend.

On Friday, Metamora suffered its first loss after 30 straight wins in losing 20-12 to Geneseo in the Class 2A title clash. Metamora, defending state champion, had defeated Roxana.

St. Laurence nipped Glenbard West 22-21 in overtime Saturday to claim the Class 5A title. Glenbard West defeated Belleville West to advance.

Emerging victorious in other title games were Joliet Catholic 16-8 over Danville in Class 4A, Fulton 48 in overtime over Gillespie in Class 3A, and Hampshire 47-6 over Concord Triopia in Class 1A.

County ok's deputies pay boost, benefits

An agreement giving Madison County sheriff's deputies a 45-cent per-hour increase in pay has been approved by the Madison County Board and by the International Union of Operating Engineers, Local 520, representing the deputies.

The one-year agreement also adds funeral leave benefits for fathers-in-law and mothers-in-law. The section on vacations was amended to assure that all deputies receive a full seven consecutive days off for each week of vacation, even if they are assigned weekend duties.

The board also gave an equivalent $78 per month increase to chief deputies and administrative assistant, who are not in the union.

Herbert "Junior" Milton, chairman of the county board's negotiating committee, said the increases are in line with increases granted all other Madison County employees previously.

Board member Homer Henke of Moro said he objects to all of the county's contracts having a provision allowing employees to accumulate sick-leave benefits year after year and using them for early retirement or for pay during layoffs. "Sick leave should be used only for illness," Henke asserted.

Board member Louis Whitsell of Nameoki Township disagreed, saying he feels employees miss sick leave benefits less when they can accumulate it.

"If you tell employees they have two weeks of sick leave per year coming, many will use the full two weeks. This way, they come to work and save their sick leave for an extra benefit. This way, we have them," Whitsell commented.

Permission also was granted to seek bids for asphalt and road oil, for museum repairs and for forms to consolidate the circuit clerk's court files.

from Frank Lynn, Inc., Alton, the lowest bidder meeting specifications, at $16,000.

A 50-foot by 10-foot shell trailer also was purchased on bid for Madison County Civil Defense to use as a mobile command post in emergencies. Apprentices from the Carpenter's District Council will modify the interior of the trailer to make space for the radio equipment and other equipment needed.

Permission was granted to advertise for bids for 18 police squad cars and 17 intermediate-sized cars for the sheriff's department. Two of the present cars will be kept for use in other departments. It was noticed the present sheriff's department cars have been used for two years and the county is incurring many expensive repair bills.

Community Development hearing

The 1977 Community Development program will be explained and county residents will be given an opportunity to give their ideas for use of the CD grant funds during a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

Mrs. Mary Kane, CD director for Madison County, said that public suggestions will be welcomed at the hearing and questions on the program will be answered.

Holdup

and the robbers tied up the Gantcheffs with shoe strings they brought. The first robber stayed with the victims while the second went upstairs and ransacked the bedrooms.

The robber with the Gantcheffs told them he did not want to do this, but had been hired for this robbery. He warned them to keep face down and he would not have to kill them.

After searching the bedrooms, the other robber went to the basement, but returned to the kitchen to ask where the light switch was located.

He went back to the basement and returned a few minutes later to ask Gantcheff where he kept his guns. Gantcheff told him there were guns behind the organ and under the couch. The robbers also asked for cash and jewelry and took money from both victims.

One of the robbers drank a bottle of beer from the basement refrigerator. They left with an undetermined number of handguns and rifles, some cameras, and the money taken from the two victims.

Mrs. Gantcheff worried her hands free about 8:35 p.m. and untied Mr. Gantcheff before she went to a neighbor's house to call police, since Gantcheff's telephone wire had been cut.

An ambulance took Mr. Gantcheff to St. Elizabeth Hospital due to the heart ailment aggravated by the robbery.

The first robber to appear at the Gantcheffs' door was described as about 5 feet, 9 inches tall, weighing about 130 pounds, having dark hair combed back, well dressed and having black shiny shoes with straps across the shoes.

The victims were unable to give police a description of the second robber.

"people new zeal, and several fine buildings, business houses and dwellings (were) in progress."

It was no mean achievement for any city to obtain the location of a railroad machine shop, roundhouse or other service.

In November 1870, "an earnest strife existed between the towns on the new Gilman, Clinton and Springfield Railroad, over the location of the company's machine shop."

At least three cities offered to donate land, buildings and "apertures" if the Chicago and Alton Railroad would locate its stockyards there.

"Prominent businessmen of Carthage spend their leisure time playing marbles on the street," the Chicago Times observed in July 1872.

But there were more exhilarating ways to spend time when the railroads brought famous, and not so famous, dramatic groups, lecturers and circuses to or through the depots in a rapidly increasing number of towns.

Prairie lads were impressed by the big city "drummers" the trains brought to town, as much by the supply of bold pictures the salesmen carried as by the marvelous inventory in their huge trunks.

Newspaper readers enjoyed the embarrassment of a Peoria ticket agent whose windy bore the great scarlet letters "BIRTHS SECURED HERE."

Such intangibles as the opportunity to escape boredom were of undoubted importance in causing Illinoisans to subscribe to more railroad bonds than they could afford.

Since the state government could not grant direct aid to railroads, promoters turned to local government.

In 1849, the General Railroad Incorporation Act was amended to provide that any county might, upon vote of its citizens, subscribe for shares in the capital stock of any such corporation to an amount not to exceed $100,000.

Later acts raised the amount and extended the power to boards of supervisors, where the township organization prevailed, and to councils of municipalities.

By 1873, it was estimated that such governments had bonded themselves to a total of $2,000,000—the figure doubled by 1877—in support of railroads. Total support was increased, of course, by contributions of individuals who mortgaged private holdings to produce aid.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD Mon., Nov. 29, 1976 Page 13

Elgin offered the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad $150,000 to build through the city. Sycamore offered $100,000 to the Chicago and Pacific for a similar purpose.

Newspapers document hundreds of similar cases. Quincy went to great lengths to demonstrate its faith by voting to subscribe up to $500,000 worth of bonds of the Quincy, Missouri and Pacific Railroad, a line chartered and built outside the state.

So eager was the city for this venture that its citizens secured a special section in the Illinois Constitution of 1870 permitting it.

Quincy pushed a bill through the General Assembly providing for it, and successfully lobbied to override Governor Palmer's veto.

Construction and business needed little encouragement. At the close of 1870, Litchfield, between here and Springfield, had 14 passenger trains per day seven to St. Louis, three northeast through Decatur, and four east to Indianapolis. By the following year, eight railroads had main or trunk lines terminating in East St. Louis, while 13 railroads had terminals in the Madison-St. Clair Counties area.

In August 1871, Chicago had 426 trains entering or leaving the city daily.

Six railroads were either completed or projected into Springfield.

The Illinois River, by June 1870, was spanned by six railroad bridges — at LaSalle, Peoria, Pekin, Beardstown, Meredosia and Naples.

When the great Eads Bridge to St. Louis opened in 1874, there were 10 bridges crossing the Mississippi from Illinois.

By 1873, Chicago had won a battle for commercial dominance with St. Louis, and its "boomers" were already speaking of overtaking New York.

As the depression halted construction in 1873, 73 per cent of all the land in the state lay within five miles of a railroad; 21.5 per cent between five and 10 miles; four per cent between 10 and 15 miles; and only 1.5 per cent more than 15 miles distant from a rail line.

Farmers must be certified to use some '77 pesticides

By RON CORNWELL, Madison County Agricultural Advisor

Any Madison County farmer applying a "restricted use" pesticide after October 1977 must be a certified applicator. A large number of Madison County farmers will be affected.

They can meet the requirements for certification by attending one of the four pesticide applicator training programs to be held in Madison County during February.

The dates of Feb. 14 and 21 have been established for the certification meetings. Locations will be established and announced later.

It is not known which pesticides will be on the "restricted use" list. A tentative list of general and restricted use pesticides is being developed by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Certification will be required only for handling those pesticides that are restricted. These will be chemicals which can cause human injury or environmental damage even when used as directed on the label.

The training program approved by the EPA provides assurance that highly toxic products will be used only by qualified persons. Certification will also allow continued use of pesticides that might otherwise not be available.

The certification programs have a heavy emphasis on safety. The Madison County

Illinois funding Bi-State Transit

Gov. Daniel Walker last week released $1,548,000 for operating subsidies to 12 Downstate mass transit systems, including $1 million for the Bi-State Transit System, which operates in St. Louis, Madison-St. Clair counties and St. Louis County.

Downstate systems receiving subsidies under the release are Transist District ($51,000), Greater Peoria and East Peoria Districts ($103,000), Rock Island County Metro Mass Transit District ($66,000), Rockford ($96,000), Springfield ($90,000), Bi-State Development Agency ($1,000,000), Bloomington-Normal Public Transportation System ($52,000), Decatur ($36,000), Pekin ($6,000), Quincy ($34,000) and Galesburg ($8,000).

So far this fiscal year, $36,212,595 has been paid to the Chicago area. Regional Transportation Authority and another $8,205,094 is being processed. The payments are part of the ongoing state support for the RTA established by law in 1973.

The governor also reported distribution of $4,361,000 in state funds for student and elderly half-fare mass transit subsidies in the first quarter (July-September) of 1976-77.

The Chicago Transit Authority received $3,972,200, other systems in the Regional

State studies voluntary exchanges of students

No changes in school desegregation rules are being contemplated by the State Board of Education, Joseph M. Cronin, state superintendent of education, announced last week.

"The state board rules already provide for flexibility in desegregation plans," Dr. Cronin said, "including metropolitan solutions along with other techniques."

Presently, Cronin and the board are studying the experience of other states, such as Wisconsin, in providing incentives for city-suburban approaches to desegregation of schools. The Wisconsin legislature has appropriated $5 million to help cities such as Milwaukee and Racine with desegregation by voluntary exchanges of pupils.

Supt. Cronin pointed out that school districts in Kankakee County are engaged now in a suit that could require a countywide desegregation solution. "The State Board of Education is a defendant in that suit," he said.

A news wire service account of a discussion by Cronin at a meeting of the Illinois Association of School Boards raised the possibility that state desegregation guidelines might be relaxed. Cronin denied this was under consideration by himself or the State Board of Education, and emphasized that only the board could change present rules.

He said a resolution on metropolitan approaches by big city school officials meeting in Chicago was "worthy of study."

"On at least six occasions, the State Board has applied the present rules with flexibility to school districts which we are convinced are already doing everything possible to provide equal educational opportunities through desegregation plans," Cronin added.

"There is no need to change rules that already can give approval to acceptable solutions and that provide flexibility to the state board and to school districts."

Discussions on 'holiday blues'

The Madison County Mental Health Clinic-Quad City Center is offering an educational discussion group on "holiday blues."

The group will meet for two Tuesdays, Dec. 7 and 14, from 1:15 p.m. to 2:45 p.m. Fee for the two sessions will be $5.

The group will explore reasons why adults sometimes feel miserable at holiday time and will discuss remedies.

Many people feel they are victims of the holiday season and find themselves getting anxious and depressed, a spokesman at the center said.

He added, "Call the clinic at 877-4420 and leave your name, address and telephone number if you are interested in participating. If you have further questions you wish to discuss, call or speak to either Phyllis Whittehead or Nancy Miller."

Highway condition information is available to the public from special weather phones installed in state police busy, they may call the Granite City police department or Madison County sheriff's office, a spokesman said.

If motorists find the state police weather phone lines busy, they may call the Granite City police department or Madison County sheriff's office, a spokesman said.

The service is offered from Nov. 1 through April 15.

The pre-recorded report is updated daily at 4 a.m., 11 a.m., 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. — and more frequently if conditions change.

The weather phones were installed to provide motorists with accurate information about highway conditions and, at the same time, to help keep regular police telephone lines open for emergency calls.

2 new Army commands; 2 are being eliminated

St. Louis has been selected as the location for two new Army commands, the Troop Support and Aviation Material Readiness Command and the Aviation Research and Development Command.

The support center is located in Granite City at the former Army Depot.

AVSOM and TROSCOM, both of St. Louis, will be disestablished and the logistics support and material readiness missions and functions will be merged under the new TSARCOM.

The AVSOM research, development and acquisition functions will be assigned to the new AVRADCOM.

The resources of AVSOM and TROSCOM will be transferred to the new commands. This action will reassign and transfer 66 military and 1,973 civilian jobs from TROSCOM, and 237 military and 3,908 civilian jobs from AVSOM to the new commands, both of which will be located in the Federal Center at 4300 Good-fellow Blvd., St. Louis.

Ten military and 414 civilian jobs will be eliminated by this realignment.

Elements of AVSOM and TROSCOM currently located outside of St. Louis will come under the command of TSARCOM and AVRADCOM, but will not experience any personnel transfers or eliminations as a result of the reorganization.

The Avionics Laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., currently a part of DARCOM's Electronics Command, will remain in place, with no personnel impact, but will become a part of the new AVRADCOM.

This realignment is part of a concentrated effort to improve the Army material acquisition process by evolving to mission-oriented research and development commands and to mission-oriented material readiness commands, a spokesman said.

To assure that such organizations will be flexible, effective and efficient requires the consolidation and co-location of prime mission elements, as well as common administrative support functions, he added. The actions indicated will be completed during the next 18 months.

Sweet Adelines sing Wednesday

A program of barbershop singing will be presented by the Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., for residents of the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville, on Wednesday at 7 p.m., under the direction of George Holtzner.

The chorus will then proceed to the First Federal Savings and Loan Association in Edwardsville where it will hold a prospective member guest night rehearsal to begin at 7:45 p.m. This special rehearsal is designed to attract new singers and prospective members for the group from the Edwardsville area. Ladies living in Edwardsville and vicinity are invited to attend.

A service organization, Sweet Adelines offers their specialized talent for entertainment at civic events and charitable functions. Arrangements may be made by calling Ethel McCann, Granite City, at 831-2215. Women interested in joining the chorus may contact Diane Ohlendorf, Mascoutah 566-9893.

Guests are welcome to attend weekly rehearsals every Wednesday 7:15 p.m. at the Collinsville Building and Loan, 312 Belt Line, Collinsville.

GLITTERING FOUNTAIN. The 20-foot tall fountain of lights is surrounded by 12 new electro-art sculptures of children to accentuate the 1976 Way of Lights theme of "Peace for the children." Located on Route 15, the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows is presenting the display nightly from 5 to 10.

Way of Lights display begins

With Thanksgiving Day providing the official kickoff of the holiday season, the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows opened its "Way of Lights" Friday evening.

It is the seventh year that the Missionary Oblates of the Laymen's Association are sponsoring the display of lights and tableaux.

Many additions and changes have occurred since its inception in 1969. A few years ago, electro-art sculptures were designed and added to the display, enhancing the effect.

This year, 12 new sculptures of children surround a 20-foot glittering fountain of lights to accentuate the 1976 theme of "Peace for the children."

Despite the beauty of the lights, one of the biggest attractions for children has been a coral with live animals. Joining the sheep and Jenny, the donkey, are a mother llama and her baby, and two small calves.

A relatively new dimension to the "Way of Lights" is the presentation of a slide program combined with a children's Christmas film. The two programs are presented nightly in the Visitors' Center from 6 to 10.

The slide program depicts this year's theme and the animated film for children is entitled, "When the Littlest Camel Kneled."

Each child attending the shows will receive a 23x25-inch Christmas poster.

The Nativity scene, displayed at the Lourdes Grotto, is made more dramatic by subtle lighting. A handcarved olive wood statue of the Christ Child is the focus of the scene.

The display will be open every night, 5 to 10, through Jan. 9.

The Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows offers the "Way of Lights" to this region free of charge. The site is 9500 West, Illinois Route 15, Belleville.

THE SCHERMER BULLETIN
It's been weeks since we wrote a column, what with the Pontoon Store opening and everything. We thought the Pontoon store was well received and now after the first four weeks, things are settling down. We don't know how it got started out a wild rumor went around that we were closing our Madison Store. Nothing could be further from our minds. We opened the Pontoon Store to accommodate the people that live in that immediate area and of course the northeast Granite and Mitchell areas as well.
Back to regular business, we have an exceptional value in Sardines. They are Booth's fish, labeled "Tid-Bit Herring," but they are really just over-sized Sardines. We sampled them before we bought them and found them to have a delicious flavor. At 4 for $1.00 it's a real buy!
David reports that he can handle a lot more business at Pontoon, so, if you haven't tried Schermers at Pontoon, now is a good a time as any.

Sacred Heart sets Winter Carnival

The Winter Carnival and chicken dinner to be held at Sacred Heart Catholic Church from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 5 was the main topic of discussion of the Parent Teacher Organization at its meeting last week.

Mrs. Sylvia Zabuwa, president of the organization announced the project will feature several games for children, a Sweet Shop, plant booth, Country Store, a cake walk, silhouette drawings and finger print characterizations by Lee Suarez and pictures will be taken with Santa.

Room mothers Mrs. Nancy Conkovich and Mrs. Julia Guithues expressed thanks to the members who have assisted in preparing items for sale at the winter project. She reported many of the prizes are handmade this year including afghans, ponchos, a crocheted bedspread, table cloths and napkin sets as well as a variety of small holiday gift items.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles York have distributed posters in area businesses announcing the event, it was noted.

Sister Mary Karla, school principal, said the children's Christmas party will begin on Wednesday, Dec. 22 with a 11 a.m. mass followed by lunch and a movie at 12:30. Prizes will be awarded to the students and a Christmas treat, prepared by the PTO, will be distributed. The principal announced Janet Narup took a first place prize and Gary McFall received a second place award in the Thrift Poster contest.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by Sister Mary Karla, who stressed the importance of listening to children and they to adults. Parents were requested to join in the fun by taking a cognitive abilities test, similar to ones to be given in the school in December. The results on how well they listened was discussed after the testing.

Refreshments were served by the seventh grade room mothers. Mrs. Janet Waligorski's seventh grade received the trophy for the month with the largest number of parents present and the teacher's prize was awarded to Sister Barbara Mary.

A surprise bridal shower was given for Miss Kathy Petrovich in the home of Betsy McGarity in Manchester, Mo., by Elaine LaFata, who will be honor attendant in the wedding.

Floral arrangements of blue carnations, blue spider mums and daisies centered the tables in keeping with the blue and white motif.

A buffet luncheon was served by the hostess after Miss Petrovich opened her gifts. Guests attending were Marcia Warner, Jamie Luebber, Maggie Talbott, Jill Christner, Eileen Koon, Mary Coyle, Kim Goffrey and Dorothy Terry.

Natural gas cost rises 13%—no added profit; unusual weather adds to impact

Colder weather than last year and a further increase in the price the company must pay for natural gas are resulting in higher gas bills to its customers, the Illinois Power Company reports.

To keep heating costs to lowest possible levels, the company is continuing to help its customers use less gas by using it more efficiently, especially with more and better home insulation, it was noted.

"The higher gas bills we are sending out are due to two factors over which the company has no control," C. W. Wells, executive vice-president, told the Press-Record Friday.

"First, the weather so far this heating season has been about 90 per cent colder than last year. Second, a recent decision of the Federal Power Commission permitted an increase in the price we must pay natural gas producers for the gas we in turn sell to our customers."

"Knowing that natural gas prices were headed upward, we intensified in April our annual campaign to promote insulation and other energy conservation steps. We told our customers that insulation was a good investment."

"The colder weather and the increased price of natural gas make that statement even more valid today. The impact of higher bills on customers with properly insulated homes is less now, and will be less in the future than the impact on those whose homes leak heat."

"The cost of gas to the company, which is passed on to the customers, will increase approximately 13 per cent because of the FPC decision."

"While the substantial increase to our customers will mean higher bills, it will bring no more profit to the company. It is a pass-through cost which reverts eventually to the producers.

"The FPC, and those of us in the business of providing gas for home heating and industrial purposes, are in agreement that the increase is necessary to influence further exploration and to increase the overall gas supply, which has been running behind demand. But it will not result in added profit for our company."

"Even with the added gas that the new prices may bring in the future, Illinois Power Company remains under a strict priority system approved by the Illinois Commerce Commission for new gas customers."

"All applicants must have permit requests on file with the company to benefit from any gas which may become available, either from new flow in the pipelines, or from decisions of industrial users to utilize other fuels."

"With the gas bills we will be sending out next month, we are notifying all our gas customers of the FPC decision and its effect on their bills. Through advertising and in personal contacts, we will continue to urge conservation and wise use of natural gas."

Open Tree of Lights drive

Two hundred sparkling lights today illuminate The Salvation Army's "Tree of Lights," situated in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, signifying that local contributors have donated $5,000 to the annual appeal, Richard "Dick" Kerch, drive chairman, announced this morning.

The 1976 campaign goal of $25,000 will aid more than 900 families at Christmastime. The yearly drive to help area families in need was launched in ceremonies Friday evening. Despite damp and chilly weather about 40 persons gathered at the tree site on Nameoki Road, directly opposite Lindell Boulevard, a new location for the symbolic tree this year.

Captain Michael Tompkins, commander of The Salvation Army in Granite City, said today that applications for Christmas food baskets and toys will be accepted starting at 9 a.m. Wednesday, Dec. 1.

Families and individuals wishing to participate in the Christmas program are required to make their application in person at The Salvation Army Center, 3007 E. 23rd St. The information will be taken between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. each weekday. Applications will continue to be accepted through Dec. 17, a longer period than in previous years, Capt. Tompkins said. This year's goal of $25,000 has been increased $5,000 over last season's amount, Capt. Tompkins said.

More than 900 families are expected to benefit from the fund and all contributions stay within this community to help where they are most needed, he stressed.

At Friday's kickoff ceremony, Attorney Randall E. Robertson was the principal speaker and urged community support for the drive. He also expressed appreciation for the Army's past services in the Quad City area and elsewhere.

The Rev. David Maxton, pastor of First United Methodist Church, gave the invocation, and a choral rendition was presented by the Salvation Army choir.

Among those assembled for the ceremony were members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and President Steve Bristol. Many individuals remained seated in their autos due to the inclement weather, Capt. Tompkins said.

Coffee and donuts were served from the Salvation Army mobile canteen and a large searchlight pierced the sky above the shopping center. The Quad City area's "Tree of Lights."

Capt. Tompkins said families eligible to take part in the "Toy Shop" phase of the annual Christmas program will select the gifts on Wednesday, Dec. 22. About $4,000 worth of new toys and between $2,000 and $3,000 in good, refurbished toys will be available from which parents may choose gifts for their youngsters, the officer said.

The local Marine Corps League once again is spearheading the campaign for toys and already has contributed about 500 items for distribution this Christmas, Capt. Tompkins said.

Each $25 donation to the "Tree of Lights" illuminates one bulb on the symbolic tree. Among the initial contributors, with the number of lights donated listed in parenthesis, are:

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Epstein; American Association of Retired Persons Chapter 1340 (three); Granite City Glass and Fence Co. (two); G. H. Sternberg (four); Tri-City Grocery (four); Mrs. W. C. Gerke; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stover (two); Arky's Rum Dum Club (two); Kermit W. Several clubs and organizations have agreed to ring bells at The Salvation Army's bright red kettles sites this week, Capt. Tompkins said.

The Granite City Optimist Club will man the kettles Thursday, followed by the Boy Scouts; Granite City and Madison Rotary clubs; Granite City Kiwanis Breakfast Club; and the Tri-City Shrine Club.

Deadline on public works applications

Department of Local Government Affairs Director Frank A. Kirk has announced that Illinois local governments planning to apply for grants under the 1976 Public Works Employment Act should be certain that their application reaches the U.S. Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration (EDA) regional office (32 W. Randolph St.) in Chicago no later than Dec. 3.

The EDA began accepting applications for the local public works program on Oct. 26, with 60 days allowed for final funding decisions to be made. Currently, over 400 Illinois local governments have applied for the federal funds.

Because of the time limit and the 13,000 applications received from across the nation, the EDA has set the Dec. 3 deadline. Any applications received after that date will be held until it is determined whether any funds remain available for a second round of the program.

This appears unlikely, due to the overwhelming number of applications received nationwide, representing requests for $13 billion. The total appropriation for the program is $2 billion.

Of the national total, Illinois is expected to receive over $64 million for government projects. Purpose of the funds is to help create jobs through construction of needed local projects that would not have been undertaken without federal assistance.

ADMITTED TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Fae Inman, 36, of 201 Holiday Home Park, was brought by ambulance from Washington Park to St. Elizabeth Hospital last week after an auto accident in which her car was struck by a truck. She was admitted for observation with pain to her head and cuts to her knees.

Service station burglary

At least two cartons of cigarettes and a bank bag containing an undetermined amount of rolled and loose change were stolen during a burglary at the Clark Service station, 20th Street and Madison Avenue, between midnight and 5:30 a.m. Monday.

Entry was gained by prying a steel bar from across a boarded up window and then prying the boards from the window frame. The change was in a First Granite City National Bank bag with a zipper on it.

BURGLARY ON WILLOW

A $300 lettering set, two cameras and some film were stolen during a burglary at the home of Dr. Bryan Waggoner 111, 2828 Willow Ave., between 6 p.m. Saturday and 4:45 p.m. Sunday, when a neighbor noticed a door was open about two inches. Police found the house had been ransacked. There were signs of forced entry at a bathroom window and the rear door. An inventory is to be conducted to determine if anything else was stolen.

Busiest inland port

The Port of Metropolitan St. Louis handled 23,082,359 tons of cargo in 1975, retaining its title as the leading port on the inland waterways system.

A report just released by the Army Corps of Engineers showed St. Louis port tonnage was up 1,420,773 tons, or 6.6 per cent, from the 1974 total of 21,662,116 tons.

Increases were recorded in the four principal commodities handled on St. Louis docks. Coal totaled 7,287,803 tons, up 8.4 per cent; gasoline, 3,760,791 tons, up 10.7 per cent; distillate fuel oil, 1,802,371 tons, up 25.5 per cent, and wheat, 1,097,246 tons, up 66.5 per cent.

Huntington, W. Va., was the second-busiest inland port in the country last year, handling 13,625,926 tons of cargo, up 13.4 per cent from 1974. Memphis was third with 11,648,641 tons, an increase of five per cent over 1974.

Twenty-eight kinds of commodities were handled in amounts of 75,000 tons or more. Shipments totaled 15,731,432 tons and receipts 6,352,549.

Huntington was essentially a coal and gasoline shipping point, with receipts of less than one million tons, while Memphis was mainly a receiving port, with shipments of less than two million tons.

Other commodities which showed increases in number of tons handled at St. Louis included corn, waterway improvement materials and asphalt, tar and pitches.

Commodities which showed lower totals in 1975 than in 1974 included coke and petroleum coke; sand, gravel and crushed rock; iron and steel plates and sheets; and nonmetallic minerals.

GUN, JEWELRY TAKEN

An automatic pistol and two small jewelry boxes containing jewelry were stolen during a burglary at the home of Gerald Shade, 3017 Maryville Road, between 8 p.m. and 9 p.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by twisting the front door knob, forcing it open. Pillowcases were removed from the pillows and were believed used to remove the stolen items. Jewelry taken included about 900 pairs of earrings, a man's Eastern Star ring, and an initial ring with "GS" on it.

Barbara Johnson becomes Mrs. Hal Keith Gitcho

Wedding vows were exchanged by Mrs. Barbara E. Johnson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Thompson, 470 Breckenridge Lane, and Hal Keith Gitcho, a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Gitcho, 9 Shirlin Drive, on Thursday evening, at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Arrangements of dried flowers in full hues interspersed with greenery and autumn leaves decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. David Bruce Maxton at 7 o'clock.

A reception was held at the Moose Lodge immediately following the service, for family members and friends of the bridal couple.

For her wedding, the bride chose a evening length ivory tulle gown with a high collar and long sleeves and full gathered skirt belted with a gold rope.

Her accessories were in gold and brown shades and she carried a bouquet of dried flowers, ferns and leaves in natural colors interspersed with brown blossoms.

Maid of honor Miss Carol Dombrowsky, bride's cousin, wore a white gown with a high collar and long sleeves. Mrs. Kathryn Ellis was attired in identical brown and camel tone formal length polyester gown designed in a shirtwaist style enhanced with contrasting belts.

Ill. women plan ERA push

Members of Illinois NOW (National Organization for Women) met in Champaign to develop a program of action for 1977 and to coordinate ERA activities in the November 2 elections.

Those attending from this area were Loretta Madison and Norma Mendoza of Granite City.

The convention participants unanimously voted passage of the ERA in Illinois as their number one priority for the upcoming year. Linda Miller of Springfield was elected ERA coordinator to lead the ratification efforts.

Legislative gains made in the recent elections make passage of the Equal Rights Amendment in 1977 seem likely, officials said. Most notable of the pro-ERA victories were Earlston Collins (District 21) who won in the primary against anti-ERA incumbent Raymond Welsh and was unopposed this fall and George Sangmeister (District 42) who defeated incumbent James Bell.

All pro-ERA Senate included Gertrude Bundy, Esther Pearson, and Helen Kachigian.

Others attending were John Winklemire, Emma Goble, Della Robb, Mae Findley, Edna Wheat, Orville Acene, Ruby Ohanovick, Helen Newland, Ida Cassel, Filomena Gruber, and Edna L. Lorene Cathey.

Child abuse up

Illinois Children and Family Services Director Mary Lee Leahy announced last week that official reports of child abuse in Illinois in 1970-71 increased 140 per cent from 1974-75. This is attributed to growing public awareness of the abuse problem, and to recent changes in the Illinois law. Under the revised law, citizens who report suspected abuse cases are granted immunity from legal action, and the definition of neglect has been expanded to include sexual abuse and mental injury.

Gov. Daniel Walker last week drove a spike starting work on 137 miles of railroad track improvements between Decatur and Paris and Lawrenceville. The work will be completed before April and will be funded by the federal government. The project will allow increased shipping of Illinois coal and grain, since the upgraded track will be able to carry larger hopper cars.

Gov. Walker last week dedicated the $8.9 million Peoria School of Medicine in downtown Peoria, the second new state medical school facility opened this year. The school will graduate 75 new physicians annually after it reaches its projected enrollment of 225 students. Since 1973, the state has appropriated more than $60 million on construction and renovation projects at state medical school facilities. Another $60 million has been appropriated for construction of the new University of Illinois Hospital in Chicago.

Gov. Walker last week released $3.9 million to build dual bridges carrying the North-South Freeway (Freeway, 412) over the Kishwaukee River south of Rockford. The bridges are part of a 241-mile route which will parallel U.S. Route 51 from Rockford south through LaSalle-Peru, Bloomington and Decatur. The new highway will eventually link with Interstate 57 in Southern Illinois.

The Illinois Department of Transportation has produced a new map and guide to public transportation routes in Illinois. The map charts air, bus and railroad passenger routes and provides information regarding schedules and terminal locations. For a free copy of the new map, Quad-Cityans may write: Public Transportation Map, Department of Transportation, 2300 Dirksen Parkway, Springfield, Ill. 62764.

'All I want for Christmas are some healthy teeth ...'

"All I want for Christmas is my two front teeth" was a popular song at one time, but all the wishing in the world won't save teeth that don't get proper care.

Dr. Kenneth Beach, program director of TEAM (Training in Expanded Auxiliary Management) at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Dental Medicine, says dentists today are trying to remove the mystery from dental problems. He feels that good dental health for most people is as simple as good diet, keeping the oral cavity clean and preventing potential problems with regular visits to the dentist.

"Prevention is not isolated to any one phase of dentistry. Any good dentist is a preventive dentist."

Preventive dentistry ranges from the small child coming in for his or her first dental check-up, to the person with dentures who comes in to have oral ridges and gums checked to prevent further deterioration.

There are two major dental diseases—caries (cavities) and diseases of soft oral tissues (gums). "Both of these are felt to be caused by bacteria," he said. "In the mouth, these bacteria grow in colonies called plaque. That is one of the primary causes for disease."

"Plaque is a massive concentration of bacteria in one area. These bacteria are living and they supply an end-product, acids and toxins that affect tissues," Dr. Beach said.

The assistant professor at the local dental school said there are several things that bacteria need in order to grow. They need a tooth to grow on, an undisturbed environment and something to eat, such as sugars.

"Essentially, you can stop the process by removing the bacteria," he said. "Brushing the teeth with a fluoride toothpaste and flossing are the best ways to remove the bacteria. But rinsing the mouth after eating is also a method of removing some of the bacteria's food supply and the acids they produce."

After the teeth have been well-cleaned by brushing and flossing, it takes approximately 24 hours for bacteria to recolonize on the tooth surface.

Another method of prevention is to deny the bacteria's food supply. Dr. Beach admitted that the Christmas holidays are not the best time to deny children candy.

"The parent who does not want to deny a child the joys of Christmas—and sweets are an important part of this—must keep the child's teeth clean. Technically, if the child's oral structure is free of bacteria, then there is a greatly reduced chance of dental disease."

He admitted that children and bacteria have a lot in common—they both really love candy. However, this may not be as much of a problem as parents think.

"It is not the quantity of sugar taken per day that necessarily will cause the increased dental problem," he said. "It is the frequency that the child eats the candy that is important."

"Anything sticky that will cling to tooth surfaces or anything that is held in the mouth for a long time, such as chewing gum, is bad."

"You have to think in terms of how long the tooth will be exposed to the sugar. The longer the bacteria gets to have its feast."

"The harmful effect of the candy is the increase in the acid condition of the tooth surface caused by the bacteria eating the sugar. Within minutes after consuming sugar, this acid rise is very sharp. This high acid level lasts 30 minutes."

"In most mouths, the acid drops back to a safe level about a half-hour after candy is consumed."

"If you have three meals a day with desserts, the teeth will be exposed to this acid attack for an hour and a half a day. The child or adult who takes some small quantity of sugar, gum, candy or a soda after the meal adds more time to the acid bath," he said.

"Then in the afternoon, there is another episode of gum, a cookie and a soft drink, followed by more sweets in the evening. All this, added to the three meals, means that about 12 times during the day, or half of the waking day, the tooth has been bathed in acid."

"I suggest that parents let children have Christmas candy as part of the meal and let them consume candy infrequently

CHRISTMAS SWEETS DON'T HAVE TO BE BAD for teeth. Teeth that have been thoroughly cleaned each day are essentially free from the causes of dental decay, according to Dr. Kenneth Beach, an assistant professor at the SIUE School of Dental Medicine. He stresses good diet, keeping the mouth clean and having regular dental checkups. John Plattner of Granite City, a second year student at the dental school, is shown caring for a young patient at the school's clinic. When working with patients at the clinic, dental students explain to them why brushing and flossing are important for dental health.

Command hosts British visitors

AVSCOM (U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command) presented a series of briefings to British military and civilian officials when they visit the Command headquarters at the Federal (Marr) Building in St. Louis last week.

Leading the visiting party was Rear Admiral Donald George Tifford, deputy controller, Aircraft B, Air Systems Control, United Kingdom. Accompanying the admiral was his advisor, Thomas Michael Crowley from the British Embassy in Washington. The group also included David J. Walters, chief of the Aircraft Group, British Research and Development Staff, and Commander Jonathan H. A. Mason of the Royal Navy, also a member of the Defense Research and Development staff.

The group left here for Washington, D.C.
